Anita You're Dreaming-Waylon Jennings
Author:Waylon Jennings and Don Bowman

```
G                                                D7
Anita come closer stop crying and listen to me
                                                      G
I guess it's too late now but somehow I must make you see

What we thought was our world was only a dream world
C
And we just can't go on like this
D7                                                 G
Anita you're dreaming of a world that can never exist

C                                                    D7
Anita it's over there's nothing that's left now to say
                                                    G
Anita you're dreaming and I know it's better this way

                                                  D7
Anita come closer and close your pretty blue eyes
                                                         G
Your young dreams just can't be and somehow you must realize

That each time you're with me my conscience reminds me
C
If someone whose waiting alone
D7                                                   G
Anita you're dreaming and when you'll awake I'll be gone
