I threw away the pictures of those better days in Dallas
                            Am             D7      G7
But I can't throw away these pictures in my mind no no
       C                C7       F                  C
She's a page of precious memories I've tried hard to turn
      F              C      G7              C
She's standing on a bridge that just won't burn

                            C7             F           C
If only time will heal the hurt then this may last forever
                         Am       D7     G7
I may never know how it feels to forget
      C              C7       F                        C
Every time I think about her those old feelings still return
      F              C      G7              C
She's standing on a bridge that just won't burn

     F               G7            C
I've burned a lot of bridges in my time
        F                    C            D7                 G7
But the one I just crossed over Lord it ain't the burning kind
          C              C7                F                C
She's that once in a lifetime kind of love that never will return
      F              C      G7              Am   F
She's standing on a bridge that just won't burn

         C             F           G7         F  C
Oh she's standing on a bridge that just won't burn
