Seems that I don't think about you too much
                          F
And I'm not too sure why I thought of you now
                   C
Time has a way of numbing the touch
    D7                      G7
But I still recall when you left me
Just how much it hurts me

To stand there just watching you leave
           C7             F
I couldn't believe it was true
                                  C             A7
After moments we shared and the souls that we bared
G7                       C
I've never loved anyone more

But like I said I don't think of you much
                                 F
There's someone beside me who helps me forget
                           C
He's shown me how not to think of you now
    D7                           G7
But when I remember you I don't regret
          C
That we couldn't hold on to the dreams that we shared
                     C7       F
The dreams that were there to believe in
                                 C        A7
And for all of the pain I would love you again
G7                       C
I've never loved anyone more

F                                C        A7
And for all of the pain I would love you again
G7                       C
I've never loved anyone more
