Red Rose From The Blue Side Of Town-George Morgan
Author:Betty Jean Robinson and Hank Snow

```
C                                              F        D7
When the man from the flower shop rings your doorbell today
         G7                              C
Take the red rose with the ribbon of blue
                                 F         D7
You'll find a million memories you threw away
        G7                        C
In this red rose I'm sending to you

                                C7           F
It's just a red rose from the blue side of town
G7                          C
From a lonely man you let down
                                  F                      D7
I'm sending it from my world to that new world you've found
            G7                                  C
It's just a red rose from the blue side of town

                                     F              D7
My red rose may not decorate your mansion on the hill
G7                               C
With your pretty flowers all around
                                       F                  D7
But a thousand roses in your garden can't express the love
               G7                                  C
That's in this red rose from the blue side of town
```

Repeat #2