She's coming ho-o-me she's coming home
G7                           C
No more will I ever be your own
                F C               F
She's coming ho-o-me she's coming home
      G7                         C    F  C
She's mine again my baby's coming home

                            F            C
Well today's the day that starts a new beginning
       G7                                  C
And at last my world's right and nothing's wrong
                            F               C
My honey's turned all of my mountains into valleys
                            G7           C    F C
And again she'll turn this house into a home

When she called me up and said that she'd decided
   G7                                   C
To come back home she's had a change of heart
                     F            C
Now I'm walking on a cloud and so excited
                   G7                      C    F  C
I can't hardly wait until the good times start
