A Faded Rose a Broken Heart-Hank Snow

```
C
I'm waiting by the garden wall
      G7                        C
Where roses bloom neath summer skies

You pressed one rose bud to you lips
    G7                      C
The night we said our last good-bye

    F                         C
The rose you kissed is faded now dear
                              G7
And love is gone since we're apart
    C
You went your way and left me behind
  G7                  C
A faded rose a broken heart

I never knew that love so sweet
G7                            C
Could prove so bitter in the end

I've tried to smile but all in vain
    G7                   C
For love is dead I can't pretend

    F                                C
Someday your heart will break and then dear
                                      G7
You'll want me back and tears will start
   C
When you recall the one you left
  G7                  C
A faded rose a broken heart
