G                        D7                   G
I used to be a big man I owned most all this town
    C            G          A7              D7
And I was well respected by folks for miles around
G                            D7                      G
Then I turned to the bottle lost my home destroyed my name
   C                 G                  D7         G
My drinking friends elected me to the Alcohol of Fame

D7                                     C                  G
Tonight there'll be no laughter when I tell them how I feel
D7                                     A7                D7
But a man must make his mark in life no matter how unreal
G                                    D7              G
For tonight I'll be rewarded for my failure and my shame
   C                 G                  D7         G
My drinking friends elected me to the Alcohol of Fame

                                        D7                   G
Tonight I'll dress I'll go downtown to the barroom on skid row
   C                    G                 A7                      D7
My friends will take me by the hand when I reach those swinging doors
G                               D7                  G
I'll be the guest of honor when they immortalize my name
   C                 G                  D7         G
My drinking friends elected me to the Alcohol of Fame
