C                      G7
I just can't remember  when he started slipping
          F             G7               C
From that strong gentle giant he used to be
                                    G7
Cause now he takes forever just to walk down to the mailbox
       F               G7               C
And it hurts me so to see him growing weak

         A#7 C    F      C
But he's al--most home   soon he'll be with momma
                 G7
That's where he belongs
A#7              C                   F
Oh how I'm gonna miss him when he's gone
         C  G7   C
And he's al-most home

                       G7
His old Chevy pickup  has already give up
   F                 G7                C
It sits on blocks beneath that walnut tree
                                  G7
And the weeds have taken over out there in his garden
   F                 G7            C
He loves to read but he can hardly see

repeat #2

A#7                C                   F
Lord how I'm gonna miss him when he's gone
         C  G7   C
And he's al-most home
