Always Wanting You-Merle Haggard

```
G      C                      G
Always wanting you but never having you
         Am           D7
Makes it hard to face tomorrow
        Am                D7          G
Cause I know I'll wake up wanting you again
G7     C                     D7
Always loving you but never touching you
    Am          D7  Am          D7         G
Sometimes hurts me  almost more than I can stand

                                  D7
I'd been better off if I'd turned away
                                 G
And never looked at you the second time
                                  D7                              G
Cause I really had my life all together till your eyes meet mine
                   G7             C
And there I saw a yearning and a feeling across
                   G                        Am           D7
The room that you felt for me  wish I'd had a way of knowing
         Am                D7                G
That the things we had in mind could never be
