Anna-Hank Locklin

```
G           G7
Anna  stand beside me
          C                              D7
Lift your eyes to the window look and see
G            G7
Anna  let me hold you
           C              D7           G
And for the thousandth time Anna lean on me

              G7
Anna  see the cornfield
        C                                    D7
See how summer's brought a million ears so fine
G                   G7
Anna  the stalks are browning
        C                D7              G
They're singing the last verse of summer time

               G7
Anna  childhood sweetheart
  C                                  D7
A freckle face but like to rope and play
G                 G7
Beautiful  air of silver
           C        D7          G
You've been mine for fifty years today

                   G7
Thank you  for the wonders
        C                                  D7
For the joy you've caused my life to be
G                    G7
Thanks dear  for the giving
        C          D7                G
Sharing your life with the likes of me

                G7
Anna  thank you darling
        C                            D7
For our children bless them every one
G                   G7
Grown now  men and women
         C       D7                G
And your name is hallowed on their tongue

              G7
Anna  see the cornfield
        C                                    D7
See how summer's brought a million ears so fine
G                   G7
Anna  the stalks are browning
        C                D7              G
They're singing the last verse of summer time

               G7
Anna  like the cornfield
        C                                  D7
We have brought four children strong and fine
G                 G7
Anna  our hair is silver
      C                D7             G
We're singing the last verse of summer time
          C                 D7             G
Yes we're singing the last verse of summer time
