Another You-Johnny Tillotson
Author:Johnny Tillotson and Lucille Cosenza

```
G                           D7         G
I know there'll never ever be another you

                                    D7
Just when I thought that you were mine alone
G                             D7
You told me there was someone new
   G                                  C
Oh it's so hard to think of finding someone else
               G          D7         G
I know there'll never ever be another you

                            D7
I can't forget the moments that we shared
G                          D7
And all the happiness we knew
G                                  C
And as I sit alone dear with these memories
               G          D7         G
I know there'll never ever be another you

               C              G
I know there'll never ever be  lips as sweet as yours
           C                      D7
No there'll never ever be another you

G                           D7
I know it's hopeless to go on this way
G                            D7
But what is there for me to do
G                               C
I've lost the only girl that I have ever loved
               G          D7
I know there'll never ever be another
G          C          G          D7         G
Never ever be another never ever be another you
           C          G          D7         G
Never ever be another never ever be another you
```