You tell me you stay out late cause you need time alone
G7                              F               C
Lately I'm not quite so sure of all that's going on
                                F
So tonight before you leave again I'd like to talk to you
G7                                  F      G7       C
To find out how you really feel this time I need the truth

                                F
I want answers to my questions don't tell me no lies
G7                             F                    C
I can see you're fooling me I can read it in your eyes
                                    F
Though the morning sun may find me alone and by myself
G7                                  F           G7      C
I can't share the love you have for me with someone else

                               F
Sometimes you seem far away even when you're near
G7                              F               C
Often when I speak your name you don't even hear
                                F
I searched for the love we had but nothing could I find
G7                                  F         G7     C
I've got to know what lies in store so lay it on the line
