Back On My Mind Again-Ronnie Milsap
Author:Conrad Pierce and Charles Quillen

```
C                Am
I took some time to clear my mind
    F                        C
And give myself a change of atmosphere
               Am
I had some fun lying in the sun
D7                           G7
Daytona's nice this time of year

      C                               Am
I saw lovers hand in hand building castles in the sand
    F                                  D7
And doing all the things we did back then
    F           G7        C              F
But just when I think I'm through loving you
       C         G7    C
You're back on my mind again

F                G7
Back on my mind  time after time
   C                              F
I wonder if this heart will ever mend
      C           G7        C              F
Cause just when I think I'm through loving you
       C         G7    C
You're back on my mind again

                        Am
I came out of my shell really doing well
  F                                    C
I met someone who thinks the world of me
                      Am
She talks of rings and whispers loving things
      D7                               G7
She's everything you'd want a girl to be

    C                              Am
But when she holds me tight the feeling isn't right
   F                                 D7
It seems as though I'm never gonna win
      F           G7        C              F
Cause just when I think I'm through loving you
       C         G7    C
You're back on my mind again
