G                                                    D7
Don'tcha don'tcha don'tcha fight the feelings of love
                                                G
Cause love is something nobody ever gets enough of
                                                        C
So reach out your hand take in all the sunshine from above
         D7
Well now love is believing so don't fight the feelings
                              G
Don't fight the feelings of love

A boy and a girl in a big spinning world
                               D7
Upside down in love from the start

Sunny days and laughing skies true love in both their eyes
                                    G
Spending happy good times in the park

Learning all about living taking
And the giving love is growing stronger every day
                  D7
Well now there'll never be another cause they're trusting each other
                                          G
Good love seems to just work out that way

Repeat #1

      D7
Don't fight the feelings don't fight the feelings
                              G
Don't fight the feelings of love
