Face Of A Clown-Ferlin Husky
Author:Carolyn Penick

```
C                                          F                    C
It's hard for me to smile I feel like crying yet I always manage to grin
F                    C          Am      D7                  G7
Friends won't know the pain that I feel or know the misery I'm in
C                         F              C
Everyone thinks I'm happy for I smile and never frown
    F                      C      Am
But looks are deceiving and nobody knows
    C               G7       C
The hurt behind the face of a clown

     F                    C               F               C
I've got a little pride my tears I'll hide whenever you're around
F                 C                   D7                 G7
You'll never know you hurt me so for I have a face of a clown
C                                   F                    C
I'll try to conceal the pain I feel I won't let it get me down
    F                      C    Am
You won't have a pleasure of know-ing
    C               G7       C
The hurt behind the face of a clown
                    G7       C
The hurt behind the face of a clown
```