Gently Comes Love-Jim Ed Brown

```
G                                   A7
You don't ask me for promises you know I might not keep
         D7                                          G
You take all the love I give that's all you seem to need
                                   A7
I hear you whisper words of love breath brushes past your lips
      D7                                          G
On my face I feel designs traced by your finger tips

                     Am       D7                   G
Gently comes love unashamed  gently comes love unafraid
                              C
Our simple kind of love grows flowers in my mind
A7                          D7                    C
Uncomplicated love that's as real as yellow (real as yellow)
D7        G
Summer sunshine

                                    A7
We don't ask what tomorrow brings  don't talk of yesterday
          D7                                          G
Things we feel are all so strong and words get in the way
                                    A7
You don't ask me to stay with you or if I'm here for long
          D7                                           G
You don't try to hold on to me that's why you're oh so strong
```
