```
G                          D7
You used to kiss me every afternoon
C                           G
When you walked through the door
                           D7
You'd smile and tell me all about your day
C                         G
But you don't do that anymore

             C
We no longer take the time
                  G
To talk the way we should
                  D7
If we keep letting things go bad
C               D7       G
They'll soon be gone for good

                 C                      G
What's not going on here is tearing us apart
           A7                                  D7
Building a wall of doubt that stands between our hearts
                       C                      G
We can't go like this forever it's time we understood
   G7               C              D7                        G
If we keep letting things go bad they'll soon be gone for good

                           D7
You used to reach out and touch me
C                     G
In the middle of the night
                     D7
Now we sleep facing different walls
C                       G
Silent wars are hard to fight

But that's just what can happen
                        G
And I was so afraid it would
                  D7
If we keep letting things go bad
C               D7       G
They'll soon be gone for good

Repeat #3

                       C                          G
We can't go like this forever it's time we understood
   G7               C              D7                        G
If we keep letting things go bad they'll soon be gone for good
