I just remembered something that I forgot to do
    G7                                  C     F          C
The bedroom door needs painting and the walls are fading too
                              C7                  F
Angie's bike needs fixing that all takes time you see
                    C           G7                    C
And I know I'm not fooling you goodbye comes hard for me

                                                 C7             F
So I'll just check for things once more and look in every room
  G7                                             C        F         C
I must have dropped my comb somewhere and a man must stay well groomed
                                               C7              F
It seems I have the right to stay but I know you don't agree
                      C           G7                       C
When it's goodbye to all our love goodbye comes hard for me

G7                               C           F       C
Goodbye comes hard for me and I hoped you'd grab my sleeve
  D7                                           G7
I thought that you might change your mind and ask me not to leave
   C                                 C7                   F
My face is wet I've cried I guess I loved you now you're free
                      C           G7                       C
When it's goodbye to all our love goodbye comes hard for me

                                    C7                    F
My face is wet I've cried I guess I loved you now you're free
                      C           G7                       C
When it's goodbye to all our love goodbye comes hard for me
