I'd Like To Be-Jim Reeves
Author: Hugh Ashley

```
C
I'd like to be the picture on your mantel
    G7
I'd like to be the window in your door
    C                        F
I'd like to be the feather on your pillow
         C              G7            C
I'd even like to be the carpet on your floor

I'd like to be the star outside your window
    G7
The lucky chair that holds you every night
    C                            F
The coffee pot you warm up every morning
         C              G7            C
I'd even like to be the apple that you bite

    G7          D7         G7
And if you need someone to talk with
    D7                           G7
I'd like to be the little voice inside
                D7     G7
And if you ever have a heartache
  A7           D7       G7
I wanna be the tear you hi-ide

    C
I'd like to the be the record on your phonograph
    G7
The melody that haunts you night and day
    C                              F
And when you're old enough to want to marry
           C              G7              C
I'd like to be the one who steals your heart away
