I'll Be Here For A Lifetime-Ferlin Husky
Author:Ken Rogers

```
C                                       F         C
I'm gonna be here fer a lifetime if I live that long
                 G7           C
Unless'n sump'en causes me to die
                                        F         C
I'm gonna be here fer a lifetime if I live that long
               G7               C
Else I'm gonna know the reason why

F                                        C
I'd gladly ride a stick horse plumb to old Hong Kong
     F                   G7
Cause baby I just gotta get ya all alone
    C                                   F         C
I'm gonna be here fer a lifetime if I live that long
                 G7                 C
Unless'n sump'en makes me change my mind

                                        F         C
I'm gonna be here fer a lifetime if I live that long
               G7               C
Honey you know I'm the waiting kind
                                        F         C
I'm gonna be here fer a lifetime if I live that long
                     G7           C
I wanna hear the matrimony clappers chime

F                                              C
They's a lot of things I'm wanting you's the top of the list
    F                                  G7
But if'n I don't get you I want know what I missed
    C                                   F         C
I'm gonna be here fer a lifetime if I live that long
                 G7                 C
Unless'n sump'en makes me change my mind

                                        F         C
I'm gonna be here fer a lifetime if I live that long
                 G7                 C
Unless'n sump'en makes me change my mind
                                        F         C
I'm gonna be here fer a lifetime if I live that long
                     G7              C
Cause honey you know I'm the waiting kind

F                                       C
Babe I'm craving loving and I wants it from you
    F                                   G7
And if'n I don't gets ya I don't know what I'll do
    C                                   F         C
I'm gonna love ya fer a lifetime if I live that long
                 G7                 C
Unless'n sump'en makes me change my mind

                   G7                C
And nothings gonna make me change my mind
```