C                       F
Honey I think that it's just about time
     C                     G7
That you and I had a long talk
      C                          F
Cause lately it seems we just can't get along
   G7                            C
So let's find out just who's at fault

                           F
It seems to me ever since you've got a job
   C                        G7
So we could live better in style
      C                           F
We've done nothing but argue so now I've decided
G7                                                  C
I'll make the living if you'll make the living worthwhile

F                                          G7          C
I'll make the living if you'll make the living worthwhile
D7
Life's not worth living when I give an inch
                          G7
And you end up takin' a mile

C                            F
It's been so long since you gave me a reason
     C                      G7
I'll bet I forgot how to smile
   C                             F
So let's stop this fussin' and do some forgivin'
G7                                                  C
I'll make the living if you'll make the living worthwhile

G7                                                  C
I'll make the living if you'll make the living worthwhile
