```
G                                        C          A7
I'm in the middle of a heartache   half out   half in
D7                                                  G
Not quite out of love with you not too much in love with him
                                         C          A7
I'm in the middle of a heartache   half way   half blue
D7                                                  G
Can't give all my love to him when I'm still in love with you

     C
Just when I think that I've forgotten you
    G
The memory of your love grows dim
         C
That old pain starts again of wanting you
G                        D7
More than I ever wanted him

                         G                  C           A7
I'm in the middle of a heartache   heart old   heart new
D7                                                       G
Can't give all my love to him   when I'm still in love with you
