G                                              D7
It would be nice if I could buy you almost anything
                                                    G
It would be nice to have more diamonds for your weddin' ring
                                             D7
But my love is all I have I can't offer the rest
                                                  G
But I'll always have dreams if I never have anything else

                                 D7
Some men can offer silver and gold
                                        G
But I've heard it said that money grows cold
                                           D7
But my love will be true I can't offer the rest
                                                  G
But I'll always have dreams if I never have anything else

                                                D7
It would be nice to own a mansion and a car or two
                                             G
It would be nice to own just about anything new
                                             D7
But my love is all I have I can't offer the rest
                                                  G
But I'll always have dreams if I never have anything else

                                 D7
Some men can offer silver and gold
                                        G
But I've heard it said that money grows cold
                                              D7
But my love will be true and it's yours to possess
                                                  G
And I'll always have dreams if I never have anything else
