It's Lonesome-Billy Walker
Author:Hank Cochran

```
G                                        C
I've walked a million miles across this floor
      D7                                 G
And a million times I've opened this door
                                        C
But all that ever enters is the blues
D7                          G
Hmm it's lonesome without you

                                     C
I know we just broke up two days ago
D7                                  G
But it seems a million years or so
                                              C
To get you back there's nothing I want do
D7                          G
Hmm it's lonesome without you

   C                                 G
If I could count high enough I'd let you know
A7                                          D7
How many times I wished that you'd walk through that door
G                              C
And love me as only you can do
D7                          G
Hmm it's lonesome without you

Repeat #3

                               C
Oh love me as only you can do
D7                          G
Hmm it's lonesome without you
```
