It's My Life
Author:By:Bill Anderson

```
G
You don't understand the pattern of my life

Because my life has got no pattern

You don't see and you can't feel the wind
                                    C
That's blowing at my back and saying move boy
    G
You think this burning fever in my heart is just a folly
                                     C
And I'm throwing away my happiness by leaving you
                  F                 C
Well it's my life throw it away if I want to

G
I've tried my best to plant my feet and stay with you
                   C
But all I feel is roots grow
    D7
And what man wants a woman who won't satisfy his heart
               G
And soothe his ego I sleep all day and run all night

And you tell me that that ain't right
                                    C
That ain't what the husbands of your friends do
                 F                  C
But it's my life throw it away if I want to

G
You try to make me think my nonconforming life

Has colored me some evil shade

You delight and filling up my mind
                                        C
With a little bits of guilt you think I oughta feel
         G
Well I'm tired of feeling guilty and I'm tired of having nothing
                                              C
And I'm throwing away this life you've had me shackled to
             F                  C
It's my life throw it away if I want to

Repeat #2
