It's Not The End Of Everything-Connie Smith
Author:Bill Anderson

```
C                 G7
Just because your love is gone
F                        C
Don't think my life won't still go on
F                      C
Because you wanted to have your fling
     G7             F     C
It's not the end of eve-rything

                         G7
The world still turns the sun still shines
F                       C
There's lots of guys for hearts like mine
F                      C
One never knows what tomorrow might bring
     G7             F     C
It's not the end of eve-rything

     G7                  F     C
Just look at the things I still possess
F                                 C
Like a heart that is filled with emptiness
F                      C
And the life of pure unhappiness
    D7                 G7
Two arms that hold just loneliness

C                          G7
My room's overflowing with blue blue songs
F                        C
Think of the nights I can spend all alone
F                        C
And all of the days I can just sit and dream
     G7             F     C
It's not the end of eve-rything
     G7             F     C
It's not the end of eve-rything
