It's That Time Of The Night-Jim Ed Brown
Author: Billy Graham

```
G
I know it's after midnight and I'm knocking on your door
    D7                                      G
And I guess the least I could have done was call

I hear you say who is it then you open up your door
        C                  D7              G
And you see this fool here standing in the hall

                                                C
It's that time of night when a man needs some loving
    D7                          G
And my wanting grows stronger for you
                                               C
It's that time of night when a man needs his woman
              D7          G
And only your loving will do

Your bedside light is shining on the teardrops in your eyes
    D7                                  G
And I hold you just the way I always do

Your trembling body tells me so much more than any words
         C               D7             G
That you need me just as much as I need you

                                                C
It's that time of night when a man needs some loving
    D7                                  G
And my wanting grows stronger for you
                                               C
It's that time of night when a man needs his woman
              D7          G
And only your loving will do
```