```
C                G7         C
I wonder if he's better off without me
G7                        C
If he cares at all that I exist
                C7              F
I don't suppose he ever talks about me
    C      G7                   C
But still  it doesn't hurt to ask

F                                 C
It hurts to know he may be gone forever
                        F          C     G7
And to think that he's forgotten me so fast
C                                          F
I don't suppose he's told you that it's over
    C      G7                   C
But still  it doesn't hurt to ask

                     G7                C
I'd like to know how many times you've seen him
G7                                     C
And if I was the one to love him last
               C7                   F
I don't really think that you will answer
    C      G7                   C
But still  it doesn't hurt to ask

G7                C
It doesn't hurt to ask
