G                                   D7
I gave up all my friends just for you
                                          G
When you were busy I stayed in just for you
                              G7          C
Paid no mind to mom and dad when they said you'd turn out bad
          D7                            G
I gave up everything I had just for you

                                      D7
I saved every single dance just for you
                                             G
Never gave no one else a glance just for you
                  G7              C
I gave my all so lovingly and all that you gave me
      D7                                      G    G7
Was a broken heart that's crying just for you

          C               C7
I gave my lips I gave my pride
                G                       D7
And now there's nothing nothing left inside
          G                     G7          C
I gave so much with no return I guess my heart will never learn
               D7                                 C  G
Cause I still wait and I still yearn just for y-ou
