I guess you just imagine that you love me
    G7                                  C
For once just say that your heart would be just mine
    F                            C
But even though it was just imagination
    G7                           C
You were my inspiration all the time

  F                           C
I know just how it feels to hold you oh so tight
  F                                C                          G7
It hurts me now to know that dear  that you were once just mine
    C
Now that I know you share you love with others
     G7                          C
Each little dream I had is gone forever

I wonder if in your imagination
 G7                              C
You'll imagine who I'm dreaming of
F                                C
When your heart was my hearts destination
  G7                             C
But now I know I'll never win your love

F                           C
I know just how it feels to hold you oh so tight
   F                                C                          G7
It hurts me now to know that dear  that you were once just mine
    C
Now that I know you share you love with others
     G7                          C
Each little dream I had is gone forever
