```
G                                    C          G
You need a change of scenery that's all I ever heard
                                        A7             D7
And when you left and you said goodbye I never said a word
      G                                  C                   G
You're back but I don't want you back to you that might seem strange
    C                          G         D7              G
But I ain't buying what she bought so honey keep your change

C
Yeah honey keep your change
       G
And the trouble that she brings
C                          G
You've worked real hard for what you got
   D7              G
So honey keep your change

                                    C               G
What happened to the scenery that look so good to you
                                           A7                  D7
Did you get tired of the change you made or did she get tired of you
      G                                  C                   G
You're like a traveling salesman and I hear they're all the same
   C               G                 D7              G
So travel right on back to her yeah honey keep your change
