Mother's Not Dead-Bill Monroe
Author:Charlie Monroe

```
G                              D7
Mothers not dead she's only a sleeping
                                    G
Just patiently waiting for Jesus to come
                                          D7
The birds will be singing while Mother is sleeping
                                     G
They will sing o'er as the grave sinks away

                                       D7
Well I left my old home way back in the mountains
                                    G
For mother and father had both passed away
                                  D7
We followed our mother up to the graveyard
                                    G
For mother was called to heaven that day

                                       D7
Oh how we miss her around the old home place
                                            G
Everything seems so lonesome since she went away
                                  D7
Mother is sleeping way back the mountains
                                     G
Yes mother is sleeping way back in the hills
```