The night life has its glamor when you're lonely
   G7                                C
It seems to help you make it for awhile
                                       F
It calls to fools who think the only answer
   D7                                G7
Is wrapped up in a warm and willing smile

    C                                F
And so I went out searching every evening
   G7                               C
Oh I'd drink the wine to whet my appetite
                                          F
Till I'd find some pretty girl back in the corner
   G7                                C
To be my life's companion for the night

                                      F
But I just can't seem to take it anymore
       C                                F
I feel empty walking through a swinging door
       D7                               G7
Seeing all the lonely people just staring at the band
F                               G7                C
Wrapped inside their feelings  playing one night stands

                                      F
I'd take her home to tell her my sad story
    G7                             C
I'd put a tear drop into every word
                                         F
Oh I felt just like a genius when I made up
    D7                                 G7
The lies that I don't think she even heard

    C                                    F
The wine would start to bring us close together
    G7                                   C
Our lips would meet to quench a hungry thirst
                                         F
We'd slip into a world of champagne feelings
    G7                                 C
But in the morning all the bubbles burst

Repeat #3

F                               G7                C
Wrapped inside their feelings  playing one night stands
