```
G                  D7
Over and over you held me in your arms
                                G
Over and over you told me of my charms
                           G7                C
Over and over I thought heaven's gift was mine
                            G               D7              G
You swore that you would never leave me but too late I find

               D7
That you have lied again and it's goodbye again
                                        G
Tears fill my eyes again and our love dies again
                   G7            C
Over and over you have left me blue
                        G          D7                   G
But still I can't get over just being in love with you

                   D7
Over and over you vowed you were mine alone
                                        G
Over and over you said our love lives on
                   G7                      C
Over and over you pledged your heart to me
                                 G         D7               G
You gave me life you gave me hope but now too late I see
