C                      F           C
I was working in Miami for a day or two
F         C                              G7
I decided I'd look up a girl that I once knew
C                                       F            C
I bought some flowers and went to see a girl I used to know
F               C                 G7           C
The lady at her door said she had married long ago

                                                F           C
Times will change and towns will change but there I was alone
F             C                               G7
When suddenly I wondered would Susie be at home
C                                  F                  C
So with the flowers in my hand I walked toward her gate
F                  C               G7                   C
Someone touched me on the arm and said you'll have to wait

                                   F             C
Then I noticed there were people standing in a line
F                 C                                 G7
Some of them were holding pretty flowers just like mine
C                              F                 C
They explained that Susie had been in an awful crash
F                 C               G7               C
Doctors said that she had just a little while to last

                                 F                 C
When I walked into her room I felt the sense of shame
F                 C                              G7
But I heard Susie whisper I'm awfully glad you came
C                                  F              C
She had been the girl that I had always gone to see
F                  C          G7                  C
When someone that I cared for had been untrue to me

                                   F                C
I handed her the flowers and she gently kissed my hand
F                 C                                 G7
She said don't be embarrassed for you know I understand
C                                F                 C
I said goodbye and as I bent to kiss her fevered brow
F                   C                  G7             C
I heard her whisper thank you for the second handed flowers
