Storm Of Love-Buck Owens
Author:Buck Owens and Harland Howard

```
G         C
There's a storm of love a-brewing now I'm losing you
G                        D7
And nothing that I do can make you stay
C
When you loved me true my skies were always blue
   D7                             G
But now a storm of love is on it's way

                          D7                 G
Everybody thought that we were perfect you and me
             D7           G
We'd always be together for eternity
       C                                 G
But the forecast wasn't quite the way it seemed to be
     D7                               G
And a cloudy sky is all that I can see

          C
There's a storm of love a-brewing now I'm losing you
G                        D7
And nothing that I do can make you stay
C
When you loved me true my skies were always blue
   D7                             G
But now a storm of love is on it's way

                  D7                G
Life a leaf in the wind what's my destiny
              D7          G
Without you I see only misery
C                                              G
Yesterday the weather changed now you've grown cold to me
   D7                             G
And a cloudy sky is all that I can see

          C
There's a storm of love a-brewing now I'm losing you
G                        D7
And nothing that I do can make you stay
C
When you loved me true my skies were always blue
   D7                             G
But now a storm of love is on it's way
```