Wandering On-Hank Snow

```
C
On an ocean of dreams I have wandered it seems
     G7                  C
Just wandering wandering on

Since I found the note sweetheart that you wrote
     G7                        C
Just saying that you had really gone

         G7                          F                   C
Will the pretty bird sing will the roses bloom in the spring
       G7
Still blossom when they find you have gone
C                                                    F
Will the old pals be true or will they all leave me too
C              G7        C
Just wandering wandering on

Will the little brook still play as it winds along its way
         G7                                C
Will the stars keep on shining tough you've gone

Will they find their way to you will they tell you that I'm blue
   G7                                C
Or will they too leave me wandering on

Though you've left me and gone I'll keep wandering on
G7                    C
Wandering down life's way

And beneath the lovely blue I may wander back to you
       G7                        C
And my dreams will all come true someday

         G7                                F                  C
Then the pretty birds will sing of the happiness they'll bring
        G7
And the roses too will bloom sweet and fair
C                                                   F
And a little star on high will shine for you and I
   C              G7                    C
If you promise my darling you'll be there
