C                                    D7
Who seems to never miss a chance to make the other one feel small
      G7                                                  C
Cares less about what love's about or just don't care at all
                                              C7      F
Who's always never sorry when the other's feeling blue
G7                                   C
We're not talking me we're talking you

F                                 C
We're not talking just you and me
     D7                                G7
With you it's someone else it has to be
      C                                    C7                F
We're talking someone I don't know that you keep longing for
    G7                                   C
And that's why we're not talking anymore

                                     D7
Who's feeling this has got to be the worst he's ever felt
        G7                                                  C
With an empty heart in bed with him he's sleeping by himself
                                      C7                F
Who never sleeps but dreams about the way love used to be
G7                                   C
We're not talking you we're talking me

Repeat #2

    G7                               C
And that's why we're not talking anymore
