You'd Better Go-Jean Shepard
Author:Harlan Howard and Wynn Stewart

```
C            G7                        C
You'd better go each moment that you linger
         G7                          C
Makes me forget his ring is on my finger
   F                             C
We love each other but I'm his so we must draw the line
             G7                        C
You'd better go before I change my mind

             G7                         C
You'd better go for I'm afraid your charms
     D7                                 G7
Will shatter my resistance and I'll end up in your arms
   C               F                   C
He loves me so and dear you know I hate to be unkind
             G7                        C
You'd better go before I change my mind

            G7                              C
To keep you here would thrill me beyond measure
    D7                                  G7
But we're not always free to do the things that bring us pleasure
   C               F                     C
He loves me so and dear you know we'd hate ourselves in time
             G7                        C
You'd better go before I change my mind
