You've Broken My Heart-Hank Snow

```
C                                        F
You say sweetheart that tonight we're all through
    G7                              C
You say my love dear it never can do
                                       F
You say that forever we two now must part
              C         G7                C
Your mind has wandered you've broken my heart

    F                                              C
The moon and the stars dear that once shown so bright
                   D7                            G7
Have gone from the heavens they won't give no light
                  C                              F
The bright golden sunshine has all faded away
             C           G7                   C
The blue sky above dear has all turned to gray

                                               F
I never will harm you I'll just go on my way
    G7                                                  C
But these heartaches you're causing you'll reap them someday
                                                       F
There's one last request dear though I know we're all through
                   C            G7              C
This ole heart is craving one last kiss from you

                                      F
A babe in the cradle a cottage for two
     G7                                              C
Were plans that we made love but they'll never come true
                                                              F
Though they'll live in my heart dear and through the pages of time
             C                  G7                   C
Perhaps I'll forget dear that your love was once mine
