You Don't Even Try-Merle Haggard
Author:Merle Haggard and Fuzzy Owen

```
G                                C                   G
Our love keeps drifting and you keep giving me the blame
        D7                                 G
I go on loving you although it's all in vain
                         C                          G
Now you stop caring so what a chance have you and I
          D7                                 G
I give my everything  but you don't even try

     C                           G
I've done all I can do and I'm standing at the end
A7                             D7
Although I know it's over my heart just won't give in
            G          C                          G
So you stop caring so what a chance have you and I
          D7                                 G
I give my everything  but you don't even try
```