You Lied To Me-Charlie Walker
Author:Bill Anderson

```
G                   G7           C
You looked at me as only you can look at me
    G                                  D7
You touched my cheek and told me not to cry
       G                G7           C
But you said you'd found somebody you loved more than me
       G           D7                 G
And you told me I'd forget you by and by

                            C
But you lied to me yes you lied to me
        G                                      D7
You said time would close the wound that bled inside of me
    G              G7                      C
But every breath I take brings back your memory
         G              D7              G
You said I'd forget you darling but you lied to me

              G7               C
Monday I said Tuesday you'd be off my mind
       G                                  D7
Then I gave myself till Wednesday then on down the line
G            G7              C
Funny how September turns to June so fast
    G                D7                 G
And you told me this pain was not the kind to last

Repeat #2

                         D7              G
You said I'd forget you darling but you lied to me
