G                  C                          G
You didn't have to have your friends to tell me D7
That
the love she once had for me is gone
    G                  C                    G
They say she's yours and for a while she will be D7                           G
You've
got her now but you won't have her long

G7             C                     G
Don't
talk too loud her love is imitation
              D7                           G
Don't
walk too proud for soon you'll walk alone
G7           C                               G
You're
happy now but soon they'll hear you saying D7                           G
You've
got her now but you won't have her long

                         C                 G
If you think you own the world you're only dreaming D7
And
you'll wake up soon and find your dream is gone
      G               C               G
You'll find to her your heart is just a plaything D7                           G
You've
got her now but you won't have her long

G7             C                     G
Don't
talk too loud her love is imitation
              D7                           G
Don't
walk too proud for soon you'll walk alone
G7           C                               G
You're
happy now but soon they'll hear you saying D7                           G
You've got her now but you won't have her long
