Your bedroom eyes  make me know what I wanted
                C                       G7
My nights were haunted by your bedroom eyes
             C     F                C               F
I know in my heart I don't have a fighting chance
                  C                G7               C   C7
When you give me just one glance with you bedroom eyes

F                  Gm           F
Just one look and you can take complete control
C                                    G7
That's all it took and now you own me heart and soul
                C   F                C           F
I couldn't go on  I just couldn't help myself
                  C             G7                C
If you looked at someone else with your bedroom eyes
